OPEN VERDICT BY JURY IN ROGERS' INQUEST

How the fatal shot was discharged from the gun which caused the death of the late Mark C. Rogers remains an unsolved question in the face of the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury at the inquest which opened at four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, with Coroner McNicol presiding. Retiring at nine minutes after six and returning to the courtroom one minute past eight, a period of nearly two hours, the following verdict was read by Robert Barrowman, foreman:

The Verdict.
"We the undersigned jury have agreed that Mark C. Rogers came to his death on September 30th, 1924, about 2:15 a.m. at 418 Fourteenth St., Lethbridge, by being shot with a Winchester pump gun.
"The jury further agree that death was caused by a gunshot wound by the gun held in his own hands, but from the evidence submitted we are not in a position to say as to whether accidental or otherwise."

(Signed) Robert Barrowman, H. A. McKillop, R. A. Wright, Joseph H. Lee, W. L. McKenzie, A. G. Baalim.
Coroner McNicol: "Gentlemen, I agree entirely with your verdict."

Note Not Make Public

There was a thrill of interest in the densely packed court when Chief Constable Harris came to the point in his evidence of the finding of a note written in pencil and folded, with the pencil alongside it, placed on the table in the den where the tragic occurrence took place in the early hours of the morning of September 30th. On the table as well as found the dead man's cap. What did that note contain and what was the story which lay within it which could have a bearing on the fatality? Curiosity was disappointed when the coroner said that he did not intend to make the contents public, but that the note would be handed to the jury as a confidential document to be so regarded and to be kept to themselves. It was, he said, the message of a man to his wife and as should be treated as a private family affair and considered sacred. The note as passed from jurymen to jurymen and returned to the safe keeping of the court.

Evidence of Mr. Granger.
The first witness called was Mr. H. Granger, secretary to the Rogers' Company, Ltd. The last he saw of the deceased, he said, was on the noon of Monday. He appeared to be in good health. He had never threatened to take his life. He knew of no trouble that he had. He had arranged to go to Calgary on Monday for business purposes. He found no letters or documents in the office in regard to the death.

Door of Den Open
Arthur Barnsley gave evidence as to Mrs. Rogers coming to his house and telling him she had heard the report of a shot and asking him to go over. This he did and saw the body. There was no question that Mr. Rogers was dead. The light was full on in the den and the door wide open. The front door through which he entered was unlocked.

Finding the Note
On the left of the fireplace, said Chief Harris, was a bookcase, in which was a gun case, containing a gun belonging to the son of the deceased. Next to it, on the outer side, was an empty gun case from which the gun had been removed. Between the two was a box unopened filled with cartridges and one opened with the lid off, containing four cartridges. These were similar to the spent cartridge in the barrel of the

On Tuesday night at Dr. Farnett's office the members of the Macleod and district Board of Trade held their regular monthly meeting, a good attendance being recorded. The chief matter of discussion was the holding of a banquet on 28th of October, at the Palace Cafe. It was decided to hold this banquet and invite two well known orators, who would speak on irrigation, which would be helpful and interesting to all farmers interested in the subject. Everyone is welcome to attend this banquet and it should prove a big success.

President Farnett and J. W. McDonald were appointed delegates to attend the annual meeting of the gun and the live shell in the magazine. On the north side of the room was a table with a note folded, written in pencil, with the pencil alongside, and the cap of the deceased. By the table was a chair on which were the glasses of the deceased. From the position in which the other chair lay it could not have been used by the deceased, as in that case he would have fallen over the gun. If the body had been erected from the position it lay the feet would have touched the fireguard.

Giving His Opinion
Witness went on to say that in Rogers' car outside was the travelling bag of the deceased containing several collars, handkerchiefs, and a comb.

If standing by the fireplace, there would be no room to get the gun up. If the gun had been discharged while being cleaned the trigger might have gone off by movement of the toe or by dropping the gun.

In reply to Mr. McLean, witness said that it was only a matter of opinion expressed by him as to the two theories of suicide and accident.

Closed the Door
Sergeant Alford, of the city police, deposed to going to the Rogers residence on receiving a phone message. He found on examining the gun a newly fired shell in the barrel and a live one in the magazine, the same make as the cartridges in the box. He found a Climax cartridge in the left hand pocket of the coat of the deceased similar to the one in the magazine. He found the door of the den open, and closed it when he left it.

Widow's Statement
At the suggestion of the coroner, the jury retired to consult as to going to get a statement from Mrs. Rogers who was at the home of Mr. Turney. She was not summoned as a witness but had voluntarily offered to give a sworn statement to the jury. It was agreed to see Mrs. Rogers, and the court adjourned temporarily. Mrs. Rogers was found in a completely prostrate state, lying on a sofa visibly suffering from the shock of what had happened. Her forehead was bound with a wet handkerchief. She gave her evidence under strong emotion, and once or twice broke down in tears.

Wanted to Go to Calgary
She stated that with her husband she had been to the Empire theatre on the night of the shooting. Returning home in the car they called at the Rogers garage. The gun was in the car and had been there for some time.

Tourists' Association, to be held in Fernie, B.C. this month, the date of which has not yet been definitely decided upon.

Any farmer wishing to do so can send his grain to the Chicago Exposition, transported free of all charges. Full particulars regarding this matter can be obtained from Secretary Grady. This is a splendid opportunity for any farmer who has a good sample of grain, and there is no reason whatever why Macleod cannot secure some of the valuable prizes that are offered in the Illinois capital. It has been done before, and can be done again.

She wished to accompany her husband to Calgary but he said that she had better not as she should remain at home and see to the children, the youngest of whom was not very well and that he did not care to have them left with the maid.

"I wanted to go to Calgary with him awfully," said Mrs. Rogers, "as I always went with him." There was a little argument over this but nothing serious. Her husband was in good spirits and had been playing with the children during the evening. She told him that he had better lie down for a little while until it was time to catch the train, and it only remains to carry out computations from them and the preparation of the final report. I should add that this is subject to modification of some of the points, which were not considered pertinent."

Judge Carpenter said that this would enable the board to hold the remainder of the hearing without further technical advice.

Adjourns to 28th
The hearing was then adjourned until October 28th, Lethbridge and the Southern Alberta towns interested will be expected to have their case ready for argument. The expert witnesses went to work on their report immediately and will endeavor to have it finished by Saturday night.

The town of Stavelly, which is making an application to the board to have the company build a four mile branch pipe line in order to supply gas to the community, will place their case in the hands of J. W. McDonald, K.C. of Macleod, who also represents Granum, Claresholm and Nanton in their fight against the company's application for advanced rates. The Stavelly application will be dealt with at the same time as the other case.

HUGE ANGLo-AMERICAN LIQUOR PACT SUSPECTED
New York, Oct. 4.—Prohibition officials claimed to have uncovered a gigantic Anglo-American rum-running conspiracy with $10,000,000 involved, when they towed into harbor today the twin-screw British steamer Frederick B, with its crew of 28 men and two women, under armed guard and with a $500,000 liquor aboard.

Five special government agents, under leadership of Wm. A. Walker, of Washington, general field superintendent of the dry forces, made the capture after they had, according to Mr. Walker, dickered for the purchase of 25,000 cases of whisky from the vessel's master, paying $100,000 in currency and cheques for the contraband. Bankers in this country, Great Britain and Canada were concerned in the conspiracy, Walker said.

The Frederick B, of 196 tons, was seized 15 miles off Monmouth Beach yesterday, after an investigation of three months. She was brought into harbor under a heavy guard. Coast-guard officials who made the seizure under Walker's instructions, said details of the international plot would be made known after the prisoners had been taken before the United States district attorney.

PRESENTATION TO DEPARTING PRIEST
On Friday afternoon last the scholars of the Separate School presented the Rev. Father Rouleau with a silver fountain pen and pencil on his departure for St. Anne's, Calgary. The presentation was made by Master Jack Ryan on behalf of the teacher and children.

On Friday evening at the home of Frank Walsh, the members of the Young Men's Catholic Club met for the purpose of presenting Father Rouleau with an illuminated address and a purse of money, in recognition of the splendid work he has done, and the interest he has always shown to all members of the Club, while in Macleod. The presentation was made by President Walsh, who spoke very feelingly and sincerely of the regret attendant on the Rev. Father's departure.

The Rev. Father Rouleau, who has been transferred to a parish in East Calgary, has been in Macleod for three years, since the departure of the Rev. Father Osborne. While in Macleod he has made a host of friends in all religious denominations, and he carries with him their best wishes for his future well fare and success.

The Rev. Father Ross, of Calgary, will fill the vacancy in this parish caused by the departure of the Rev. Father Rouleau.

GAS COMPANY HEARING AD-JOURNED TO OCT. 28th

Calgary, Oct. 4.—Three expert gas engineers who have been in conference following the hearing before the Board of Public Utility Commissioners earlier this week, reported on Saturday morning that they had reached an agreement on all the pertinent questions submitted to them by Counsel for the City of Lethbridge and the Gas Company. The formal report was not presented Saturday and Judge Carpenter, chairman, decided that it be prepared immediately and sent to the Board. They will distribute copies to the parties interested in the hearing, which now stands adjourned to October 28th.

When the Board opened the hearing at the Court House on Saturday, Judge Carpenter called on Frank P. Fisher, Lethbridge, Mich., the board's gas expert, to report the result of the conference he had held with George W. Welker, Oil City, Pa., for the company, and A. I. Payne, Edmonton, for the City of Lethbridge.

General Agreement
"Subject to correction by other members of the conference," said Mr. Fisher, "I can say that we are confident we will be able to agree on the questions submitted to us. All the essential figures have now been agreed to, and it only remains to carry out computations from them and the preparation of the final report. I should add that this is subject to modification of some of the points, which were not considered pertinent."

ELECTION LOOKED FOR IN GREAT BRITAIN IN DECEMBER

London, Oct. 6.—Inquiry at Labor party headquarters reveals great activity on the assumption that a general election is imminent.

It happens conveniently that the meeting of the Labor organizers which was convened a month ago is now being held and the discussion naturally centres on the subject of an election.

There has been an unprecedented demand from the general public for tickets for the Labor party conference, opening in London next Thursday. For the first time in Labor's political history it has been necessary to charge an admission to the public balcony. An election lead is expected from Premier MacDonald when he delivers the inaugural address, but official Labor circles consider that the political prophets have gone far astray in attaching such importance to the Workers' Weekly incident and the proceedings incidental to anti-government motions to be proposed in the house of commons on Wednesday. The general belief of Labor leaders is that Premier MacDonald's defeat and dissolution will come on the Liberal motion as regards the Russian treaty.

Fight Is Promised
"We shall fight on the Russian treaty," said an official of Labor headquarters yesterday, "and on the general record of the government since it has been in office as well as on the party's programme but we do not consider their ex-workers' Weekly business of sufficient importance to become an election issue."

Labor leaders anticipate that the election campaign will be in full swing the beginning of November, and that polling day will probably come in the first or second week of December. On the other hand inquiries in circles close to the cabinet indicate a distinct strengthening of the opinion among the ministers that the government's best course is to court defeat and invite a verdict from the country at the soonest possible date.

The Premier's View
Premier MacDonald is said to strongly hold this view, as he considers the Liberal demand for an inquiry into the circumstances attending the dropping of the seditious charge against the editor of the Workers' Weekly as an intolerable implication against the attorney-general. A small group of the premier's supporters, however, are against an appeal to the country on this subject. They consider that the

The question of re-opening the fair again next year, says the Express, is still in the balance, but now that Canada has withdrawn from the project and the other dominions are doubtful of success, the policy of throwing in some more millions in the hope of recovering the vast losses lacks essential support.

The Express also recalls that J. Thomas, colonial secretary, when asked parliament for an increase of the government guarantee for the exhibition, ventured to assert that "not one cent of the increased guarantee" will be required.

$50,000 SETTLEMENT FROM SCANDINAVIA

Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—(Reuter News).—Editor of the Swedish-Canadian News, Winnipeg, is touring the western provinces of Canada for the purpose of gathering information for the publication in Norway, Denmark and Sweden, where there are $50,000 prospective Canadian immigrants.

Mr. Remiday is visiting the Scandinavian settlements all through the west, getting the first-hand accounts of the experiences of the early settlers. The stories will be printed in his paper, which is largely circulated in Sweden among those who are interested in Canada.

At present there is a large number of unemployed in the Scandinavian countries and these people according to Mr. Remiday, are the ideal type for western settlers.

The stories of successes of those who are already in the country are the biggest inducement to potential settlers he states, and the distribution of information of this character should be of service in showing Scandinavians in the United States the special advantages which Canada offers.

situation can only result in the removal of the attorney-general himself. This matter will be in suspense till after the meeting of the cabinet on Monday, but a crucial stage is expected later Wednesday evening, assuming that the Liberals intend to adhere to their demands for the appointment of a select committee.

Ready For Challenge
J. R. Clynes deputy leader of the house, when interviewed yesterday, said:

"Labor never shirked a challenge from either of the two parties, and is ready to meet one now, if it comes from both. These political leaders who have had to swallow all their brave words in abuse of Ireland and Germany will later on have to face the same ordeal about Russia."

The Democrat contains a message from Stanley Baldwin, the Conservative leader, as follows:

"I have profound faith in the British worker, whether he talks by hand or brain. He is my friend and I trust—indeed I know—I am his friend. Stand steadfast to the constitution that is the past made of Britons what we are today."

Emerson Hough Story of 1849 Provides Pathetic Story With Adventure

What is "the way of a man"? Has anyone ever solved the problem? As a title for a photoplay serial it might indicate varied types of story, but, when coupled with the name of Emerson Hough it is not difficult to fathom that "The Way of a Man" is the way of red-blooded men who settled the West and fought for their ultimate prosperity through privation, discomfort and danger. Emerson Hough's stories deviate from hackneyed plots and usually adhere to unexpected developments which gradually increase the interest, arouse one's patriotism and, without seeming to, elevate mental reactions.

An adaptation of Emerson Hough's popular novel, "The Way of a Man," is the subject of the new Patheserial, produced by C. W. Patton, directed by George By. Seitz and presenting Allene Ray and Harold Miller in the leading roles. It will be a weekly attraction at the Empress Theatre for ten weeks, the first episode appearing there Friday and Saturday October 17th and 18th.

GREAT CAST IN "EMPTY HANDS" Picture Version of Arthur Stringer's Novel Due Here Soon

"Empty Hands," a Paramount picturization of the novel and magazine serial of the same name by Arthur Stringer, will be the feature at the Empress Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. It is a Victor Fleming production, adapted by Carey Wilson.

"SINNERS IN HEAVEN"

Paramount Production of Famous Prize Winning Novel Filmed Under Difficulties

The average film fan, who sits amidst comfort and ease in a well-ventilated and excellently-appointed theatre and watches the silent shadows flit across the silver sheet, little dreams of the time and effort and energy that goes into the making of a motion picture. It is difficult to convince him or her (as the case may be) that the few thousand feet of film which takes about an hour to unwind upon the screen took many months of heart-breaking work—work sometimes accomplished under tremendous difficulties.

"Sinners in Heaven" is a case in point. This Paramount picture, which opens at the Empress Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, was filmed almost entirely in the Bahama Islands. When you see this photoplay you will be amazed at the marvelous southern atmosphere and the pictorial beauty of the tropical backgrounds but you will know nothing of the hardships that every member of the company experienced in making the picture.

"The sun was 120 degrees in the shade and there was no shade," said Richard Dix, one of the featured players.

"Can you imagine," chimed in Bebe Daniels, who also has a leading role in the picture, "I had a chill and lost ten pounds."

In checking up the casualties of the location trip, it was discovered that Miss Daniels ran a rusty nail into her foot; Dix splintered his elbow in the fight he had with Montague Love, who played the native chief; Victor Delinsky, suffered a badly

BEBE DANIELS, RICHARD DIX

Every once in a while there suddenly appears on the film horizon a motion picture that offers something new in the way of story and theme. Originality in photoplays, as regards plot is mighty rare, and for that very reason "Sinners in Heaven," the new Paramount picture, which comes to the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, deserves to be singled out for special and honorable mention.

To many film fans the title of this screenplay has a familiar and reminiscent sound. That's because it was adapted by James Creelman from the powerful novel of the same name by Clive Arden who had the coveted honor of having this story adjudged the prize-winner in the English book competition of last year.

Alan Crosland, who produced the picture, has many directorial triumphs to his credit, but it is no exaggeration to say that he has surpassed all of his previous efforts with "Sinners in Heaven."

An indication of the extreme care that went into the making of this cinema may be seen in the array of screen talent that has been assembled for the various roles. Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix have the two featured roles, while the supporting cast includes Holmes Herbert, Montague Love and others.

When you see blisters and corns and callouses in the palms of the modern hory-handed son it means that he's been gripping his brassie too tightly.

grain being threshed, and the class of weeds which might be encountered.
The device cleans the grain very thoroughly of weeds.

IS MONTREALER KING OF THE RUM-RUNNERS?

New York, Oct. 3.—Alec Adilman, president of the Sunset Wine and Spirit company of Montreal, has been sued for $100,000 damages in the supreme court here by Myer Rosenthal, formerly connected with the company, who charges that Adilman, and a brother, Norman, falsely charged him with the piracy of the schooner Lutzen off the United States coast several months ago. It was learned today.

The Lutzen was looted of several thousand cases of liquor.
Information filed in a French court in Brest, where Max Jerome Phaff, a German-American, is under arrest as an alleged rum pirate, mentioned a man named "Adilman" of New York as the man "higher up," who furnished the funds for the smuggling of liquor into the United States from Canada. Federal officials have started an investigation into this phase of the case.

Rosenthal, who is said to be a builder in Brooklyn, recently obtained an attachment of $10,000 against Adilman from a local bank. Adilman now is on his way to Montreal to attend the trial of Captain Samuel Ford, former skipper of the Lutzen, who is directly charged with the piracy.

LEAGUE COUNCIL MEETS NOV. 15 TO ARRANGE ARMS CON- FAB IN 1925

Geneva, Oct. 3.—The council of the League of Nations decided today to hold a special meeting November 15, probably in Geneva to elaborate plans for the international conference on the reduction of armaments provided for in the protocol on arbitration and security, which it is planned to hold next year.

The council as it is at present constituted, probably will not meet in November, but each of the ten states represented in it will designate representatives qualified to discuss the technical matters involved in the program for the conference.

The opinion seems to be growing here that it will not be possible to carry out the original intention to call the conference June 15, as the questionnaire concerning the agenda will hardly reach the various governments before the end of the year at which time the various parliaments will be considering the protocol itself.
A French spokesman expressed the opinion today that the conference could not be called before the autumn of 1925. Such a delay, it is pointed

THE INTERNAL POLITICAL SITUATION IN GREAT BRITAIN

The internal political situation in Great Britain is causing concern among the delegates as they realize that the fate of the conference depends on whether the British parliament ratifies the protocol. The attitude of former Premier Asquith, Liberal leader, toward the British agreement with soviet Russia is regarded here as likely to force a general election in Great Britain and the British here fear that a Conservative victory would imperil the protocol.

The delegates are also of the opinion that the British in general will want to consider carefully the effects on Anglo-American relations of ratification of the protocol.

Belgium today signed the protocol thus bringing the total of nations which have signed to eleven.

BRITISH AIRPLANE SHOT DOWN BY TURKISH MOSUL

London, Oct. 3.—Turkish forces near Cumadia, Mosul, attacked a squadron of British airplanes on a scouting expedition, shooting down one of them and capturing the pilot and his observer, according to an exchange dispatch from Constantinople today.

Several clashes have been reported by British and Turkish forces in Mosul lately. The British have been occupying the territory increased by the world war and are anxious to hold it because of rich oil wells there.
The Turks demand that they leave and threaten to expel them by force.
The controversy is under discussion by the League of Nations, which has appointed a commission to attempt a peaceable settlement.

JAPANESE URGE INTERVEN- TION IN CHINESE WAR

Tokio, Oct. 6.—"Patriotic" agitation for Japanese intervention in the Chinese war on the side of Gen. Chang Tao-lin, the Manchurian leader, was brought to a climax today when three members of the Taisho Patriotic Association, all jiu jitsu experts, invaded the foreign office and forced their way into the private office of Baron Shide Hara, foreign minister.
When the foreign minister he was present.

ENROLL FOR EVENING CLASSES

On Friday evening last at the Town Hall, J. H. Ross of the Provincial Institute of Technology, explained the outline of the proposed evening classes in Macleod. The classes were for adults only, and would be arranged for one evening each week until the beginning of March next year. The instructor would be a local person, who is qualified to instruct in these specialized subjects, such as motor engineering, electric work, woodwork, dressmaking and other courses. The fees are nominal, and any would-be pupil who contemplates taking any such course of study is asked to leave his or her name with E. Foster Brown, Secretary of School Board, as soon as possible, so that the classes can be commenced without further delay. According to Mr. Ross, in Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and other centres, the evening classes are largely attended, and are proving a great help to the students. The classes are really a branch of the Provincial Technical college in Calgary.

HOW TO SET THE CORNER

(Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb, State College of Washington.)

RULES FOR TABLE SETTING

In setting a dinner table the plate should be an inch from the edge of the table, directly in front of the person to be served. A "cover" is the space allowed for each person, which should be about 30 ins. The chair should touch the tablecloth, or come to the edge of the table. The knife, if at the right with the edge toward the plate, the spoons at the right of the knife, the fork at the left of the plate. All silverware should be an inch from the edge of the table.

If in doubt which piece of silver to use for a course, "eat in"—that is, use the fork or spoon laid farthest from the plate for the first course, and the others in succeeding order.

The glass should be at the tip of the knife, and only 1/2 full. Bread and butter plates are not used at a formal dinner; at other times they are put either at the tip of the fork or on the napkin. The napkin should be placed with the fold toward the plate. When you fold and unfold your napkin, do it under the edge of the table. Do not unfold it all the way if it is a large dinner napkin; half way is proper. It should be laid in the lap, not tucked into the clothing as one too often sees it at restaurants, at belt, breast or chin.

The cup and saucer comes to the right of the silver, with the handle to the right. Like the plate, it is an inch from the table edge. Never leave the spoon in the cup. Many a tea or coffee stain on fine linen has been the result of this social error. The spoon should lie in the saucer at the right.
If you use individual salt dishes, they should be in front of the plate (at the top), or if there is one for each two guests, between the plates at the top.
The nut dish is also before the plate.
A place card with the guests name on should be against the nut dish or on the napkin.

Before using the butter spreader may be placed across, above the top of the plate, but when used it goes on the bread and butter across the right side, with the blade in.

FARINA PUDDING

When there are only two to be served, it is sometimes hard to plan a simple dessert. Farina pudding may be made by slowly pouring a heaping tablespoonful of farina into a cup and a half of boiling milk that has first been stirred till it is whirling, then stirring all the time. Add a fourth of an even teaspoonful of salt, cook five minutes, then set in another saucepan containing boiling water, cover, and cook 15 mins., stirring occasionally. Flavor with lemon or vanilla, turn into cups, and serve cold with sweetened cream.

PORK CHOPS WITH SAUCE

ROBERT

If you like pork chops, this is a nice way to serve them. Trim neatly and have ready finely chopped onion and parsley, with which to sprinkle both sides of the chops, also salt and pepper. Beat them lightly with a broad knife or wooden paddle to make the parsley mixture and spice stick.
Then dip each chop in slightly beaten egg, roll in fine bread crumbs, let stand 5 mins., dip in melted butter and roll again in the crumbs. Arrange them in a wire broiler and broil 5 to 7 mins. over a clear fire.

Chop 2 large onions, fine, put in a steeped with a tablespoonful of butter, and cook very slowly until it is well colored. Add a tablepoon-ful of flour, stir and brown again, then add slowly a cup and a half of beef stock and 2 tablepoonfuls of vinegar. When the sauce is smooth and thick simmer it down to 1 cupful and add a scant teaspoonful of mustard, salt and pepper to taste.

Four this around the chops when they are broiled, after they are on the platter.

A LUNCHEON MENU

If you do not know what to have for luncheon, why not try a menu like this? First: Scotch broth in cups; then baked beans in little individual pots, cold meat with pickles, brown bread sandwiches, a potato salad. For dessert, vanilla ice cream with either spice cakes or crisp cookies. Serve coffee with crackers and cheese at the end.

ABOUT KITCHEN FIRES

Someone has said the kitchen is like the power-house of an electric railway. The comfortable cars fly fast over smooth rails, but the passenger sitting on his comfortable seat rarely gives a thought to the power-house. The motorman keeps his eye on the track ahead, his hand on the power lever, but even he rarely thinks of the power-house. The kitchen fire is really the motive power of a large part of the household machinery. Where there is an electric range, with buttons to turn plainly marked for the varying heats, or even a clock automatic control, there is no excuse for the cook's failures; but where wood and coal must be relied on, or even gas, that must be watched and turned up and down, it takes patience, skill, and

NO KISSING IN RUSSIA

Moscow, Oct. 4.—Dr. Nicholas Semashko, soviet commissioner of health, has issued an edict against kissing which, he contends, is one of the most potent means of spreading disease.

The new order, if observed, will fall hard on the Russian peasantry, who are in the habit of kissing one another, not only on the lips but three times on each cheek in salutation.
Dr. Semashko also is opposed to the kissing of ladies' hands by men, a national custom in Russia. Not only

FIRE PREVENTION SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED

The Government proclaims annually a Fire Prevention week, and it is the duty of every individual to give the important matter of Fire Prevention due thought and consideration. Below are given some of the enormous losses by fire which are appalling:

"A steadily increasing loss of life and property from fires in the United States during the past year is reported. Fifteen thousand deaths and damages of $500,000,000.00 according to analysis of fire reports. An average of 41 persons are killed, and 47 injured every 24 hours, with a property loss of sixteen dollars a second. Five schoolhouses and fifteen homes are destroyed by fire daily. One farm building goes up in smoke every seven minutes, with one dwelling adding fuel to the flames every four minutes. Four warehouses, together with one hospital and five churches are burned down every time the clock makes its round of twenty four hours.

"It is safe to say nine out of ten of these conflagrations could be prevented." large number of anglers who use this trail.

D. Siples, of Pincher Creek, was in Macleod on business connected with his hotel at Pincher Creek, this week.

W. J. Macdonald, well known hotelman of Winnipeg, was in Macleod for a few days this week in connection with a civil action at the district court.

To get 11 birds out of ten shots is not bad shooting, and has to be done by a real old time sportsman. Any way Jack Baird went out with his gun the other afternoon and returned with eleven birds, chicken and partridge, which he obtained with ten cartridges.
